Refosco Dal Peduncolo Rosso 2020

Deep color, ripe aromas, complex flavors

VINEYARDS

---

Winemakers in Borderlands - At the far Northeast of Italy, close to Venice and at short walk from Cividale del Friuli at the border with Austria and Slovenia, Alturis vines benefit of a unique microclimate. The Julian Alps protects them from the cold winds of North, while the breezes from Adriatic Sea smooth and mitigate the climate, offering the vineyards exceptional conditions to produce grand quality wines.

WINEMAKING

The grapes are gently destemmed before crushing. The must thus obtained is left to ferment together with the skins at controlled temperature with frequent pumping over to extract color and flavor. After racking, aging takes place in glass-lined cement tanks.

TASTING NOTE

---

Intense ruby red tending to purplish.

Intense and pleasant, with great elegance, and personality showing the typical flavors of the varietal. Vinous and fruity fragrances with notes of blackberry, blackcurrant, and blueberry; subtle hints of green pepper are also noticed. On the palate it is soft and dry with vinous flavors and lively tannins.
